

Mary Haigler, DMD, MS

Dr. Haigler was born and raised in South Carolina and completed her Doctorate in Dental Medicine at Medical University of South Carolina (MUSC). She practiced General Dentistry for several years before she realized that there was a need for an Orofacial Pain Specialist in our area. Along the way, she learned to embrace a philosophy of knowing each patient as an individual and tailoring care for them.

She completed a Continuum in Orofacial Pain at Louisiana State University's Dental School, as well as a postdoctoral Masters degree in Orofacial Pain and Oral Medicine from the University of Southern California's Herman Ostrow School of Dentistry. She became board certified in Orofacial Pain and became the first licensed Orofacial Pain Specialist in South Carolina.

Dr. Haigler wants to help you to identify and manage conditions like: TMD (TMJ disorder), headache (migraine, cluster, paroxysmal hemicrania, tension type headache), sleep disordered breathing (obstructive sleep apnea/hypopnea), bruxism (clenching/grinding), neuropathic pain (Trigeminal Neuralgia, Atypical Facial Pain, Post Herpetic Neuralgia), myalgia (muscle pain), and trigger point with referral, and other oral pathologies that are causing patients to suffer.
